PROBING MYSTERY IN COLUMBUS CO-ED'S DEATH

NO ENTHUSIASM FOR STOW-A-WAY ON ROGER'S PART

(Special to The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., June 17.—You will pardon me, but this stowaway boy of ours—I am not going to be able to make up much enthusiasm about anybody over eight years old that will crawl into a plane where every corner in weight counts, and risk crashing the plane on its takeoff and killing all the occupants.

I just can't picture him in the Hall of Fame. Watcman would be about his niche.

When he arrives home, if he is not met with a long keen hickory switch instead of a brass band, then our confidence in parenthood will drop lower, if that's possible.

Pyle's cross-American derby finished here yesterday. Andy Payne from Claremore, Okla., winner of last year's race, came with him in a Ford sedan. Smart people, these Oklahomans.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

This is the day the Boy Scouts begin to practice their act for the European jamboree. The entire group who are making the trip to England start a week's intensive training at Camp Phillips to learn the ropes as they will be pulled in England.

And another one that Pa New hears about and passes to your inspection is that of a young college graduate, a co-ed, is waiting tables so she will have a back ground for hostess work.

The state highway department is putting up additional stop signs along the by-roads by the highways. All motorists must stop before driving onto the cement highways. Needless to say the highway motorist has the right of way.

Something happened in the placement of the highway stop signs which appeals to the risibles. On the Mt. Jackson and Enon road there is a farmer who lives quite a distance back and connects with a long lane. The state workers thinking it was a road placed a stop sign at the lane. Now the good man must come to a halt at his own driveway.

There are still a few who believe that the bummering clause was retained in the recent law. The clause was lifted by the senate and bummering is still a good old legal pastime, much to the joy of some and sadness of others.

The flower pots are now on the railing of the East Washington street bridge and the contents are blooming nicely, in case you haven't noticed.

The bump in the street at the corner of Mercer and Washington is still as bad as ever. Visitors here will be sure to remember the city if they hit it.

Columbus Police Delving Deep In College Tragedy

Plan To Either Hold Professor Snook For Murder Or Exonerate Him

MANY DIFFERENT STORIES TOLD

Believe Crime Lies Between Snook And Marion T. Meyers, College Worker

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., June 17.—Revealing a net of circumstantial evidence, police of this capital city today said they would either exonerate or lodge a charge of murder against Prof. James M. Snook, veterinary instructor at Ohio State University, in connection with the grisly slaying of Miss Theora K. Hix, 25, pretty medical student whose mutilated body was found on a society shooting range on the eastern outskirts of Columbus.

Prof. Snook, a husband and father, was pictured by police as a sweetheart of Miss Hix, daughter of Melvin Hix, of Bradenton, Fla., which was known to her classmates.

Snook admitted his friendly relationship with her, saying he shared her affections with Marion T. Meyers, a horticultural worker connected with the university. Meyers also is held.

In Prof. Snook's automobile, were found a stained cap, a slashed glove, a hairpin, a woman's umbrella and a hammer of the kind police believe was used to slay Miss Hix. Authorities assert the slayer who slashed her throat had expert knowledge of anatomy.

For two years Miss Hix worked as office assistant and stenographer for university officials.

Two Philadelphia women and a boy lost their lives on nearby New Jersey highways, one of the women being drowned when the auto in which she was riding plunged into a creek while the other burned to death when an auto caught fire after overturning. The boy was killed by a passing auto at Runnemede. Half a dozen other persons were hurt.

POLICE QUIZ DOCTOR IN CO-ED MURDER MYSTERY

Every available detective in Columbus, O., has been pressed into service in efforts to solve the mystery of the slaying of Miss Theora Hix, right, Ohio State university co-ed, whose battered body was found on a rifle range near Columbus by two boys, Milton Miller, lower left, and Paul Krumlauf, right. Police have been grilling two members of the university faculty, one of whom, Dr. James H. Snook, police say has admitted occupying a room with Miss Hix on several occasions as man and wife. LONDON, June 17.—Ambassador G. Dawes arrived here from Forres, Scotland at 8:30 a. m. today in a highly jubilant mood after his momentous conference with Premier Ramsay MacDonald during which they agreed to call the world to join Britain and the United States in reducing naval armaments.

Unperturbed by the fact that his train pulled into the Euston station 50 minutes late and with his famous underslung pipe clenched between his teeth, the new ambassador was exceedingly cordial to waiting reporters although he had little to say.

Dawes Satisfied
"My conversation with Premier MacDonald was exceedingly satisfying," he said. "You understand, of course, that I can say no more just now. I shall have something to say at the proper time."

Smiling broadly, however, he added:

Village Inhabitants Flee In Terror As Earth Tremors Rock Territory

(International News Service)
WELLINGTON, N. Z., June 17.—Eight persons are known to be dead and scores injured as the result of an earthquake which rocked a large portion of New Zealand today.

LONDON, June 17.—One person is known to be dead, and many casualties are feared to have occurred in a severe earthquake which rocked various portions of New Zealand today, according to an exchange telegraph dispatch from Wellington.

The death occurred in a Rockslide precipitated by the quake.

The districts chiefly affected by the earthquake were Christ Church, Nelson, Westport and Coalport, according to further dispatches received here.

In the city of Wellington the populace ran to the streets in terror when the shocks rocked the houses there, breaking windows, crumbling chimneys and causing other damage.

Business at Standstill
Westport suffered extensive damage. The tower of the town post office collapsed, severing communication with the outside world, as all telegraph and telephone lines ran through the building.

The Nelson college was badly damaged and two students were seriously injured by falling masonry. Several others suffered slight injuries.

In Wanganui the earthquake was felt while a case was being heard in the town court. The magistrate and lawyers hurriedly ran from the swaying building and prisoners housed in another portion of it were set free temporarily.

In many districts electric service was completely disrupted and business was at a standstill.

BY DR. LANNING

Many United Presbyterian Pastors Share In Impressive Program

In the presence of 700 or more persons, the cornerstone of the new First United Presbyterian church being erected at the intersection of Glenmore boulevard and Albert street, was laid during impressive exercises on Sunday afternoon. Included among the assembled hosts were former pastors and others once associated with the congregation.

Better weather could not have been wished for, and the sweeping breeze that whistled through the tall trees nearby seemed as if nature were saluting the occasion.

Program Opens.
The program opened when Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, asked the invocation.

Special music by the singers of various churches throughout the city followed.

Dr. A. J. Randles, pastor of the Second U. P. church, read the scripture. The reading of the scripture was followed by the message of greeting that Dr. James M. Ferguson, pastor of the Bellevue U. P. church, delivered. Dr. Ferguson was formerly pastor of the First church here.

"A history is wrapped up in this church for which you lay the cornerstone this afternoon," said Dr. Ferguson. He recalled the late Dr. Robert Audley Browne, the founder and first pastor of the congregation. "We gather here in memory of him and to pay tribute to the noble ideals that Dr. Browne established."

Daughter of Founder Present.
Among those seated on the speaker's platform was Miss Roberta Brown, daughter of the late founder. The occasion was colored by her presence and made the ceremonies all the more inspiring.

"Yellow Bird" Lands At Le Bourget Field After Short Flight From Spain

By ROBERT W. THOMPSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 17.—Wearing borrowed clothes, but in high spirits and still convinced that he was on the path to Linberghian fame, Arthur Schreiber, 22-year-old Portland, Maine, youth who stowed away in the trans-Atlantic monoplane "Yellow Bird," greeted American and European newspapermen in the Hotel Loto here today.

The daring youth, who is being feted by the French nation although he is held responsible for the failure of the "Yellow Bird" to reach Paris on its flight from Old Orchard, Maine, was dressed in clothes loaned to him by Armand Lohr, Jr., sponsor of the flight and radio operator during the trans-Atlantic voyage.

"Paris is a swell town and France is a grand nation," were Schreiber's first words. "But I'll be glad to get back to the good old U. S. A. and rejoin my family in Portland."

Jean Assolant, pilot of the "Yellow Bird" and Rene Le Fevre, navigator, maintained their attitude of friendliness toward the stowaway today.

World Mourns Booth's Death

Son Of Founder Of Salvation Army Dies At Home In London

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 17.—The world today mourned the death of General Bramwell Booth, son of the founder of the Salvation Army and until several months ago its leader.

The general had been in precarious health for some time but had been reported improving and his sudden relapse and death last night came as a severe shock. He was 73 years old.

His wife and family, with the exception of his daughter, Commander Mary, were at his bedside in the Booth home at Haslem Wood, near here, when the end came at about 9 o'clock last night.

Until February 13 last, and since the death of his father in 1912, General Booth had been commander in chief of the Salvation Army. He was deposed on that date by the organization's high council by a vote of 32 to 5 on the ground that he was unfit physically to lead the vast organization.

His position followed a long, drawn out controversy which went to the courts.

Now's the time for folks who travel, to begin a scorching crawl, to be edging in the region for their trip to Kilmere Beach, to the mountains or the river, in the good old family driver, to the spot for their vacation, that is somewhere near their reach. One can go to Lake Michigan, to about twelve back a day, to some high hat resort along the sea, but no matter what the cost is, whether high or rather low, all such places this year look alike to me. For I reckon I'll vacation with a pen in my hand, for vacation this year seems to be passe, all of which is quite all right you see, there's not a word to say, yosh it's warm it's up to ninety-four today.

LOCAL MAN WEDS BROOKLYN GIRL

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Sally Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mayer Schwartz of Brooklyn, N. Y., to Doctor Meyer Bloom, son of Mrs. Pearl Bloom of East Reynolds street, New Castle.

The ceremony took place June 17, in Newburgh, N. Y., with Rabbi Maurice J. Bloom, brother of the groom, officiating, assisted by Dr. T. Edward Kier of New York City, who chanted traditional hymns in Hebrew.

Music during the ceremony was rendered by Dr. S. A. Masselli, organist; Dr. H. B. Foxman, violinist, and Mrs. George Shapiro, soloist.

The bride was attired in a gown of beige chiffon with hat to match. Witnessing the ceremony besides members of the Bloom's congregation were relatives and friends of the couple from New York, Brooklyn, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Miss Mae Bloom and Benjamin Bloom, sister and brother of the groom, from this city.

Dr. Bloom is a graduate of the local high school class of '20, was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh with a B. S. degree in 1925 and received his M. D. degree from Bellevue Medical college during the past week. He is a member of the Phi Beta Delta fraternity.

After a short boat trip they will return to Brooklyn and Dr. Bloom will leave shortly to serve as interne in the Johnstown hospital, Johnstown, Pa., for a year. He expects to then take a post graduate course in New York and later return to New Castle.

PROTECTING THE BETSY ROSS HOUSE

SCORES of New Castle and Lawrence county folks who have hurried around in Philadelphia for the historic Betsy Ross house, and have been disappointed to find it almost hidden from view by buildings on either side, and largely a market for trinkets inside, will read with interest the following from the Philadelphia Inquirer, which indicates that it is soon to take its proper place in the line-up of things historic in the nation:

One of the interesting incidents of Flag Day was the announcement that four properties west of the Betsy Ross house have been purchased by the memorial association, not only to eliminate the danger from possible fires, but also to provide a little park which will furnish space for holding patriotic services from time to time. Eventually it is hoped to obtain enough property on the east side of the Ross house to balance the present purchase and to give this historic structure the right kind of setting.

While Philadelphia is filled with the spirit of modern progress and is rapidly advancing along material lines, it has not been forgetful of the historic structures which are memorials of its proud past. The central shrine, of course, is Independence Hall, and the manner in which it has been restored and is being cared for is a cause for congratulation. Christ church is another place that has received loving attention, and the recent creation of a tiny park adjoining it has at least lessened the fire hazard. Years ago the brick home of William Penn in which his daughter lived was removed from narrow Lehigh street and re-erected in Fairmount Park, where it is a constant reminder of the great founder of Pennsylvania.

There is little danger of becoming too sentimental about the past, and a decent regard for it is likely to have a sobering as well as a stimulating effect upon the spirit of the modern world.

UP TO PARENTS
THE announcement of the intention of the American Federation of Teachers to work for a universal compulsory education law for all children under 18 years of age as a remedy for juvenile delinquency appears to be based on the assumption that moral delinquency may be prevented by quantity rather than the quality of the instruction. It may be desirable that no child be permitted to end its schooling until the age specified, but adding a year or more to the compulsory age will not of itself operate to attain the end sought.

It is said that inadequately educated young persons are revealed to grow delinquent morally as well as in industrial and commercial advance, but by no means all of education is in the schools. By far the more valuable part is received in the home, if it be had at all. More schooling might help much but it would not do all desirable in diminishing delinquency. If the right kind of principles are inculcated even though schooling be ended before one is 18 there is very little peril of lapsing into delinquency.

LABELED CITIES
THERE is nothing fantastic about the suggestion that comes from the federal department of commerce that those cities aspiring to a place in the rapidly growing field of commercial aviation shall label themselves so they can be recognized from the air. Names prominently displayed and arrows indicating the approach to the landing fields are all within the possibilities of the immediate future, and the method and style of marking are a subject for practical ingenuity.

It might not be out of place to make similar provision for the benefit of motor tourists. Many post offices are already suitably labeled, but it would help if all towns and cities would suitably identify themselves by signs. The French, in their Morocco protectorate, have recognized this need, and their location and distance signs are painted on white fences or walls and are thus made visible for miles. They cannot be very ornamental, but are certainly less offensive than the advertising board that everywhere disfigure American highways.

A woman is always an egotist's second love.

FORESEES A HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE

IN DECIDED contrast with the visions of the run-and-jump tourists whose "studies" of world conditions inspire talk of the wretchedly imaginable horrors of "the next war" are the encouraging speculations of Prof. Edward P. Cheyney, of the University of Pennsylvania, on "a century of peace."

The most pessimistic, who must depend upon their reading for an insight into international relations, undoubtedly will place more credence in the vision of Professor Cheyney than in the rumors of war. While an authority on modern European history may not be always right, the odds are in his favor.

This esteemed historian sees many factors making for peace, and nothing to warrant a return to the bloody turmoil that began a century ago and came to a climax with the World War. One of the promising symptoms is the gradual disappearance of war fears and hysteria in the countries of Europe. The French, German, English and other European people are overcoming that foolish fear that their neighbors are constantly waiting for an opportunity to leap at their throats.

Contributing to this elimination of suspicion and fear is the publicity given peace moves and the various treaty and disarmament discussions. This is helping the great mass of people to banish all thought of war and cultivate the rational expectation of a prolonged era of international amity.

It would be a prosaic world if it were not for the noise made by minorities.

Some persons are such easy marks that the financial crook is almost ashamed to take aim.

A Peace Plan.
Strange Fish.
By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE

Ramsay MacDonald, soon coming here, may suggest that the British Empire and the United States establish freedom of the seas by dividing the earth between them.

The United States would take charge of the western hemisphere and Great Britain take charge of the rest.

That would suit us as regards this western hemisphere. We live here. Don't want anything. Our neighbors have, don't want anybody to interfere with them, don't intend to allow it, and don't want anybody to interfere with us.

If Britain will keep peace in the rest of the world we shall be much obliged.

Plenty of submarines and heavy bombing planes to meet anybody that comes with hostile intent. Swift planes able to fly the ocean, long range submarines warning all nations, strike at us and we shall strike you where you live, and you will never forget us.

That, with all due respect to pacifists, is the program for this country.

A scientific expedition led by Dr. Sabin finds in the sea off Nonsuch Island, Bermuda, a fish that projects from its head, has two stalks longer than its body, with an eye at the end of each stalk. It is as though you had two bamboo fishing poles projecting from your forehead, with an eye at the end of each fishing pole. These fish can look three ways at once, backward, forward, sideways.

"Marvelous proof of evolution," scientists call it. But why?

What could amuse little Cain and Abel more than to catch fish with eyes at the end of stalks, swimming in the brook, in the Garden of Eden?

One gift the average "Dad" would appreciate, and it would cost nothing, is a little attention to what "Dad" says, between this and next Father's Day.

If children could be persuaded that "Dad" hasn't spent all of his life in vain and that he really knows something worth listening to, the average "Dad" would be well pleased.

Fine weather on the Atlantic "best in years" for flying, according to the weather bureau. And the three pucky Frenchmen landed safely after their trans-Atlantic flight.

Flying in 1928 cost 334 lives, a major cause of airplane and other recklessness and to use of planes unfit to fly. The marvel is that so few are killed.

Because flying is new, an occasional death horrifies the public, which pays little attention to 20 times as many deaths on tall buildings, subways, bridges and railroads.

The Dime Worshiper.
He built his life around a dime. He gave it all his thought and time. Here in a world of fruit and flowers A ten-cent piece won all his powers.

His fingers grabbed to take it in. He worried lest it should grow thin. Here in a world where joys abound, Dimes were the loveliest things he found.

Beyond the coin he could not see The beauty of a blossoming tree Nor was there anything on earth Surpassing silver's sterling worth.

And on his deathbed all they heard Who asked him a final word. Was this: "I leave my dime to you. Take care of it whatever you do." (Copyright 1929, Edgar A. Guest.)

Hoover's Call For Sincerity In Peace Aims Stirs Debate

Country Is Emphatic In Expressions Of Desire For Arms Reduction But Opinions Differ As To Force Of American Efforts

The Memorial Day address of President Hoover, demanding that the nations make sincere efforts to out-heralded by which the strength of law war, wins world-wide attention and much enthusiastic praise. Some who praise the speech, however, would have the United States take a stronger position on naval cuts and peace than it has yet taken.

"The speech was a patriotic American utterance of international significance and one to place the President in the forefront of the ranks of genuine peace advocates," in the opinion of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE. The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER recognizes that "he wants action in the direction of making war an outlaw, and is determined on making a test of the faith of the nations." The COLUMBIAN EVENING DISPATCH is convinced that "for the next four years, at least, this government will work for a policy of positive and substantial reduction of naval armament—and it will undertake this work under the leadership of a President whose world-wide influence is greater than that of any other statesman now living."

"Speaking at Arlington, where rest thousands of the country's defenders," says the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS, "he dwelt upon the fact that these patriots died in order to establish peace. He pledged himself to renewed efforts toward assuring that such sacrifices shall not be claimed again." The BALTIMORE SUN believes that "it is the kind of public discussion that, persistently continued and accompanied by faithful effort to find the yardstick for reduction of armaments of which he speaks, will yet bring to fruition the passion of common people for durable peace."

"The world's organization is not so complicated, nationalistic fears and suspicious not so uncontrollable, entrenched long not so strong, hatred not so deep, class antagonisms not so bitter," declares the SPRINGFIELD MASS. UNION, "that a genuine will to have peace is not some time conceivable." Seeing an "example of Mr. Hoover's idealism," the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL holds that "it leaves no doubt that he is committed to the cause of arms reduction and that the United States can be expected to do its share to bring it about."

"If we are honest" is its keynote. "If we are, the course is plainly charted," thinks the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, and the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS sees "a test of the sincerity of the world powers which solemnly put their names to the recent treaties of disarmament." While the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS looks upon the address as "a challenge which commands from so high a source, will not be overlooked by the nations of Europe." The GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE avers that "the United States is in a position to force disarmament."

"We believe the peoples of the world will rally to the appeal of this peace campaign," says the comment of the JACKSON CITIZEN PATRIOT, and the ST. LOUIS TIMES interprets the utterance as "a trumpet call to the banners of peace which should impress the nations of the earth." The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL holds that "the great Lincoln, who had such wonderful understanding in his time, made no better word of pleading the elemental cause of humanity than President Hoover has just done for the emancipation of his day."

"The peace of his day," says the paper, "adds that a little light to see the President go the whole way and proceed to restore to this republic something of the democracy which it lost from its association with the 'World War.'"

"We have to thank Mr. Hoover for his splendid and timely emphasis of the truth, but it demands works after the words," advises the HARTFORD TIMES, with the suggestion that "the distinction be sought to make between aggressive and defensive armament is one immensely difficult to interpret in terms of ships, guns, munitions and enlistments." The RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER also demands "deeds, not words," and recalls that "Mr. Hoover once stood with President Wilson on a platform which would have brought peace to the world," that "there are more philosophical theories of the tendencies of the times will not re-establish confidence in his leadership for peace."

"No word of the World Court. No word of any specific instrumentalities for the preservation of peace. No high call to co-operation. No renewed denunciations of faith in the things Herbert Hoover once held dear and sacred," is the LYNCHBURG NEWS' summing up, with the added comment: "What instrumentalities?" He does not name them. He sounds no ringing call. He does not seek to capitalize the high aspirations for peace which he finds in the hearts of men and women the world over."

But the TRENTON EVENING TIMES feels that "it is apparent as a result of the Arlington speech, that the Hoover administration is in a receptive mood toward the World Court concept," that "this may be inferred from the President's plea for furtherance of these instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment that will enable us to remove disputes from the field of emotion to the field of calm and judicial consideration." The CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER lauds "a timely, logical, encouraging address" and voices the hope that "it means that Mr. Hoover intends to use the influence of his office to promote America's early accession to the World Court." The Plain Dealer continues, "It would, one assumes, be too much to expect that any step will be taken in the direction of membership in the League of Nations."

"Mr. Hoover went so far as to in-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles
GET SHIPS FOR THE FARMER

The ships of Great Britain are often referred to as being greater in number than the ships of any two Great Powers. Just how many there are of the British ships, the ordinary American never knows.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping has listed every ship of sufficient size to be either registered or about to be registered. From it is gained the information that merchant shipping construction in the United States during the quarter ended March 31, increased more than 100 per cent over the previous quarter and merchant shipping under construction throughout the world increased by more than 200,000 gross tons during the same quarter.

The present world total is slightly less than that of a year ago, when 2,893 gross tons of merchant vessels were being constructed. Of this total, 1,444,000 tons were being built in the yards of Great Britain and Ireland, 16,000 in the United States and 1,391,000 in all other maritime nations combined.

In Great Britain and Ireland there was an increase of 114,000 gross tons over the quarter ended December 31, 1928; and in the United States there was a gain of 46,000 gross tons, or more than 100 per cent. Smaller gains were made by Germany, Japan and Russia.

Conditions in the past two quarters are shown by the following figures: Great Britain and Ireland, March 31, 1,361,375 gross tons; December 31, 1,242,794 gross tons; United States, March 31, 94,436 gross tons; December 31, 47,640 gross tons. Other countries, March 31, 1,363,999 gross tons; December 31, 1,327,258 gross tons. World totals, March 31, 2,893,600.

New work begun by the shipyards during the last quarter was more than 150,000 gross tons in excess of the vessels launched in the same quarter of 1928. The new tonnage of steamships and motorships on which construction was commenced, however, was 15,000 tons less than in the last quarter of 1928, while the volume of tonnage launched was approximately the same for both quarters.

These figures give a bright side light upon the zeal of Great Britain to possess the greatest Navy in the world. The merchant ships figure the British flag come first in every European's mind.

How about "disarmament?" British Diplomats will always desire the "other fellow" to reduce his Navy. And when is the Merchant Marine of the United States?

Drowned

TWENTY-FOUR REPORTED RESCUED

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., June 17.—An other effort was to be made today, if the tug of the steamer Laurel is still afloat, to take place men, including Captain Louis Johnson, from the ship that was pounding on Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia river, last night.

One seaman named Smith was drowned when a huge wave swept him from the bridge of the vessel. Twenty-four others have been rescued.

The ship was driven ashore by a terrific gale which swept up the coast. When the vessel struck a bar, a rending crash was heard and the steamer broke in two. The after half of the vessel, with most of the crew aboard, stayed near the beach while the fore half wallowed out to sea. It is believed that no one was on the fore part of the ship.

FIRST U. P. CHURCH CORNERSTONE IS LAID ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

came a special choir by the choir, "How Lovely Are Thy Messengers."

Those who composed it were the church's regular quartet: Miss Ruth Drescher, soprano; Miss Margaret Sankey, contralto; Albert Gendlinger, tenor; and David Hopkins, bass.

Harvey Brenner, director, accompanied at the piano. Assisting the quartet were Mrs. Garth Edmundson, Mrs. David Harris and Miss Charlotte Andrews, sopranos; Mrs. Wayne Orr, Mrs. Willis Parks and Mrs. B. M. Rogers, contraltos; William Whieldon, Thomas Hopkins and David Williams, tenors; and Fred Sontam, Leslie Rogers and Harvey Brenner, bass.

Dr. Lanning Spinks.

The cornerstone laying address was then given by Dr. E. L. Lanning of Pittsburgh, one-time pastor of the church and now editor of the Christian Union Herald, publication of the United Presbyterian church.

Dr. Lanning spoke of the home first, saying it is most sacred and one of the noblest things of all American life. "Side by side with the home is the church," he continued. Recalling the old church that was destroyed by fire, the speaker said that some of the saddest and gladdiest days of the lives of many gathered in his audience were spent in that former building.

"It brought comfort and peace to us. Today we are met to lay the cornerstone of a new church in a new location. One that is replacing the old. What does this mean? We lay the beautiful church building. It will be beautiful for God loves beautiful things."

"But in our exercises today we must remember that Jesus Christ is the great cornerstone upon which we are building. If we do not found our work upon Him our work will surely fall. Christ must be made supreme."

Gives History.

J. Lee McPate, president of the board of trustees of the congregation, spoke next. He cited historical statements in connection with the first church building, the second and forecast events for the third. He spoke of the meeting at which the four men and eight women decided to found the congregation, after months of toil and prayer were given success by God.

Mr. McPate also announced what was being placed in the cornerstone of the box about to be sealed.

Aside from the contents of the old cornerstone box taken from the North Jefferson street building following the fire placed in the new box, was a roll of the present officers and members of the congregation, a list of the Bible school teachers, a copy of the church's 75th anniversary program, a history of the congregation prepared by J. Lee McPate, bulletins of the congregation and ones of the other U. P. churches of the city, a copy of The News of January 2, 1928, carrying the story of the fire, a copy of the June 15, 1929, News telling of the city's jubilee ceremonies, and current copies of the Christian Union Herald and the United Presbyterian.

Lower Cornerstone.

Workers lowered the heavy cornerstone into position while Judge James A. Chambers, in behalf of the board of trustees, placed the box underneath and spread mortar around the box. Miss Browne, representing the congregation, and Frank Gelger, for the session, stood in attention while Mr. Chambers sealed the stone.

J. Clyde Gilliam, member of the board of elders and contractors for the new building, assisted Judge Chambers.

Following the actual laying of the stone the audience sang the "Twenty-Third Psalm," and Rev. S. B. Cope, pastor of the Third U. P. church, pronounced the benediction.

Seated on the platform during the exercises were Dr. S. E. Irvine, president of the church, who presided as chairman of the program; Dr. Ferguson, Dr. Lanning, Rev. Cope, Dr. Williamson, Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college; Miss Browne, Mr. McPate and Judge Chambers.

The first church was organized on December 25, 1849. The building in the process of erection is the third to be built by the congregation. The new property has a frontage of 330 feet on Glenmore boulevard and 130 feet on A. Bell street. The new building is being constructed from native Ne-shannock limestone.

were disclosed by police. A restaurant owner said she partook of a light lunch in his cafe about 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning in company with a man whom he identified as Meyers.

While the two were eating, the proprietor said, another man who "looked like Proctor Snook" joined them and the three left together.

Two railroad workmen told police of having seen a man and a woman struggling in a secluded spot on the grounds surrounding Fort Hayes, an army depot, about a mile from the place where Miss Hix's body was found.

The man, the workmen said, picked up the woman, threw her over his shoulder and tossed her into a small coupe and drove away.

From a landlady police said they learned that Proctor Snook and Miss Hix occupied a cottage near the university as man and wife.

Snook holds several records as a former member of the pistol team of the American Olympic team.

Poultry Specialist Advises Chick Care For County Raisers

H. H. Kauffman, State Specialist And County Agent Visit County Flocks

H. H. Kauffman and County Agent H. H. McGuffee, have visited a good many poultry flocks in the county and it was found that the disease has made its appearance. Mr. Kauffman estimates that 50 per cent of the flocks of chicks at this season of the year show some condition. The symptoms are pale legs and pale beak and a general unhealthy appearance. In some cases the droppings are bloody. On post-mortem the ceca are usually enlarged with bloody and cheesy materials. Mr. Kauffman recommends thoroughly cleaning the house at least twice a week and putting the chicks on all mash consisting of 40 pounds of feed and 20 pounds of mash. This feed should be given only ten days. Chicks should then be given the regular growing ration. Sanitation is the most important phase of chick management. It is also found that many poultrymen do not have sufficient mash hoppers for sufficient drinking fountain space. This often causes the chicks to tramp over each other and induces cannibalism. Cannibalism can often be checked by giving more mash hoppers and

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated. In the course of his 47 years' practice he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1879. He found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with psyllium. In 1890 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market. The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who are given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year. Its great success is based on merit.

Other Worlds In Space

By S. S. MYERS

An inquirer wants to know if the science of astronomy furnishes any evidence of other worlds in space or of an ideal place of existence such as we dream of for the life hereafter. Astronomy suggests other worlds in this universe of ours. Otherwise there would be a tremendous waste of matter existing in space. It is inconceivable that with all of the millions upon millions of stars, many of them a thousand times larger than our sun, that our little earth, which is comparatively but a mere speck in the vast universe, should contain the only intelligent beings in existence. That would be taking too narrow a view of the incomprehensible power and wisdom of the Creator.

There must be thousands of other worlds in existence, peopled with intelligent beings. The time was when such a statement would have been regarded as rank heresy. In fact an astronomer was imprisoned for just such a statement. The authorities of that time believed that if there were other worlds the Creator could not give His undivided time and attention to this world. In other words, they were trying to limit the omnipotence of the Creator. We cannot measure infinitely with the finite.

And if there are other worlds in space, occupied by intelligent beings, why can we not conceive them to be perfect beings such as the human race was intended to be? It is possible that beings in other worlds never disobeyed the Creator or fell to such a state that a special redemption had to be provided as in our case. Perhaps we have not yet grasped the full meaning of the Savior's declaration to His disciples when He said, "If my Father's house are many mansions, if we were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you that where I am there you may be also." Was He speaking of a large house containing many dwellings, or of a city of many mansions such as we conceive of in those terms? Not His meaning was infinitely broader.

But I take it your question refers more particularly as to whether there is an ideal heaven. In reply let me say that you have practically answered your own question. You have imagined such a place and you cannot imagine any thing that does not exist. We have the power, through our consciousness and reason, to conceive of a better world than this—a perfect one where suffering does not exist, where beauty, joy, order and harmony reign without disorder. And the very fact that we can imagine a world like this is evidence that it must exist. Our intelligence, if it could imagine things incapable of existing, would be greater than that of the author of creation, since it would be capable of seeing further than His. Such a supposition is absurd.

Come one may say, the ancients imagined the Centaurs a fabulous animal half man and half horse and no such being exists. But the horse exists and so does man. The imagination has conceived no new material, no matter in what shape or form it may appear. So it may be with our imagination of what Heaven is like. It may not be exactly what we imagine it to be but it will be all of that and something more. For Paul writes in the second chapter of first Corinthians, "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things that God hath prepared for them that love Him."

Columbus imagined the earth to be round; Galileo imagined it moves; Kepler imagined the laws that govern the solar system. Copernicus imagined the entire universe to be moving, and Copernicus imagined it to be moving around a common center, and all of these imaginations have proven to be realities.

The supposition that we have in us the power to conceive an image of the real world, and that we can act on it before we have a conception of the world as we know it today. Some thinkers have already guessed that there are other worlds, other lives, other thoughts than ours in space. They cannot prove their dreams by any tangible proof. And yet they know that their dream is a reality.

Scientist Urges Healthful Use of Sugar

"An important thing to remember about eating is that we should enjoy our food," says one of the country's eminent food scientists. "Remember that sugar is one of the finest condimental foods in the world."

He goes on to explain that sugar is nature's incomparable flavor. It helps to relieve the monotony of our daily diets. It is an aid to nutrition and health because it adds to the enjoyment of eating, and for that reason enables us to eat a greater variety of other healthful foods, by improving their flavors.

"Sugar is wholesome," he said, "and it is inexpensive. Everyone can benefit from this flavor which adds so much pleasure to nearly all the other foods we eat."

The advice of this famous man can be carried out in planning almost all daily dishes. Fresh or cooked fruits are full of minerals, vitamins and other elements necessary in the diet. They are made more delightful to our taste by the addition of sugar.

The flavors of nearly all vegetables are very much improved by adding a pinch of sugar in cooking. Sugar in connection with chocolate or cocoa makes a delicious beverage. Most foods are made more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Many Participate In Event Held At I. O. O. F. Plot In Greenwood Cemetery

Many members of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges of Lawrence county on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock participated in the annual county memorial observance by these organizations at the I. O. O. F. plot in Greenwood cemetery.

There was a record attendance of the members of the two orders, who assembled at the I. O. O. F. hall on North Mill street and marched to the cemetery. The services were also witnessed by many others.

The Rev. D. D. Sleppy, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist Episcopal church, gave the invocation and the benediction. The address of the occasion was delivered by Attorney Walter S. Reynolds and was heard with much interest by those in attendance. A short eulogy was given by Thomas Clark of the Ellwood City lodge.

One of the features of the service was the dropping of roses on the graves of deceased members in memory of the deceased members in the county for the past year. The program included selections by men from the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church and a group of daughters of members of the I. O. O. F.

SELL GRACE M. E. CHURCH

Building Is Purchased By Greek Orthodox Church Of St. George

At a meeting of the congregation of the Greek Orthodox church of St. George, held Sunday afternoon, June 16, the officers of the church were authorized to purchase the building now owned by the Grace M. E. at the corner of Asnes and Reynolds street.

For some time the deal has been pending until the Greek Orthodox church members could see enough money in sight to lift the option which has been held.

This total is not yet assured, according to Speer Marousis, president of the congregation, but he and the other members have faith that the money will be secured. Several friends outside of the congregation have offered to help, and it is hoped that other outside help will be forthcoming.

It is probable that the congregation will take over the Grace church in the near future. The Grace congregation recently merged with the Epworth M. E. and will be in shape to relinquish their building on short notice.

School Athlete Is Badly Hurt

Charleroi Football Captain Probably Fatally Hurt Near Meadville

(International News Service) MEADVILLE, Pa., June 17.—Roland McKay, high school athlete and captain of the football team at Charleroi, Pa., injured Saturday when his automobile burst into flames and crashed against the side rail of a bridge near here, probably will not recover, it was learned today at Spencer hospital.

"We do not expect McKay to live through the day," Dr. H. C. Winslow, consulting physician, told International News Service. McKay, with two companions from Meadville, was nearing the end of the bridge when his car burst into flames. Blinded by the fire, McKay lost control and his car plunged wildly against the side supports of the bridge before it could be brought to a stop.

The companions, who escaped with minor injuries, immediately called the hospital.

McKay was delirious from shock and burns when taken to Spencer hospital. Today, according to Dr. Winslow, he had regained partial consciousness.

The injured boy's father, a physician of Charleroi, and his mother today were at his bedside here.

TACTFUL Amy! To blame the stuffy trolley—when she meant "B. O."—Body Odor!

But Dick wasn't fooled. So many people were dodging him lately, that he began to suspect the trouble.

Dick's the best-liked fellow in his crowd today. Let him tell you how easy it is to keep perspiration odorless.

"Funny I didn't tumble to 'B. O.' sooner."

"But that just goes to show how tricky

Toast that Never Burns!

How simple it is! The illustrations at the left show an amazing new way to make toast—automatically.

There is no need to watch this toaster, and you can do other things while the bread is toasting. There will be no scorched toast, and never any scraping to make the toast edible. You do not have to be on the lookout for that thin column of smoke, and then rush over to the toaster to turn it off. For with this new toaster, the current is turned off automatically when the toast is done.

The Toastmaster toasts the bread on both sides at once, just alike, an even golden brown, and you will not have to look for the best side to butter. The enclosed oven seals in the flavor, and the toast is piping hot clear thru, and the taste—you will be surprised at the difference.

Tough Man to Beat

Tommy Armour won the Open at Oakmont, Chicago, Ill., in 1927, and has been knocking off some smaller titles since. Tommy is running a free lance career as a pro, but the effort it took to make the grade is another story. Tommy was pretty badly banged up in the "big push" and his 70's turned into 90's, with a stiffened arm and a blinded eye. But he went hard at making his game over. Enough comment to say he is back in the top flight again and will be a serious contender over the Wingfoot course at New York when the National Open gets under way.

ANNOUNCING

ONE CASTLE FOUR CASTLES

by
The Women's Club - Organized in 1887.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."

In this picture, even the parent recognizes the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship of motherhood for our homes, for our schools, for our public health and for our public happiness. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

MAKE HASTE WITH A PURPOSE

Little wonder, is it, that we cry "marvelous" at the accomplishments of this present day.

Automobiles are rushing here and there, airplanes are flying swiftly guided by the hand of man whose nervous energy seems concentrated on winning a race with Father Time.

Mercenaries are snatched from the air and hurled back in the same machine.

Voices greet us from out of space and tell us, to a matter of neighboring feet, that a well known man in Washington is smiling and bowing affably to those about him but the man by his side is unsmiling and very sad.

Pictures are traced for print, by wire when the subject is thousands of miles away.

"Great Pen" in London strikes the hour for all the world.

The frozen silence of the Antarctic becomes articulate and sends to us the voice of Byrd.

Letters are stamped in Peru and with borrowed wings flutter down in Washington almost before the ink is dry.

Pictures appear on the screen accompanied by voices that have been canned and released.

We go fishing in the air with a wire for music and for speeches and for terms—while sitting in our easy chairs by our own fireside and then feast on the good things prepared for us.

"Marvelous indeed!" but the value of all this is yet to be reckoned. Only as it adds to man's usefulness and increases his possibilities for future achievements can it be counted an asset in the world's estate.

In keeping with the feverish haste of the day to put things over quickly and to rush to our destination on wheels and wings is the movement fostered by our National Library Association. To put books on wheels and carry them to every home in every county of this great nation is its objective.

To carry them in haste to those who do not have access to books, to make it easy to get books; to create a desire for books; to advise on the choice of books; to stir minds and tempt them to read is a motive that is undervalued with a far reaching value for the whole world.

We may have to wait with patience to know just what good will come from crossing and recrossing the ocean, or from the easy pick-up of entertainment, but we know, without any hesitating wait, of the inspiration that will follow every truck load of books—an inspiration that will bring in its wake much of usefulness and benefit to Lawrence County.

The Club Women of the County are interested with an unselfish interest in this movement of the Library Association. Our state has sanctioned it. Our County can have such a truck at work if we will become interested enough to ask for it.

When this Book Truck is in our city—Tuesday, June 18, may its very presence speak to each one of us of a possibility that we can make our own—a possibility to introduce that in our county which represents the highest form of service to those of our citizens who do not have an easy access to books.

To move as quickly as we do today and to gather in so much of sound from the air is amazing.

To move quickly as we do today and to gather in so much of sound from the air is amazing.

To move quickly with a splendid purpose—a purpose to put inspiration, information and culture within the reach of every citizen of Lawrence County is more than amazing: IT IS WORTH WHILE.

BAD FOR THE SYSTEM

It is not normal to lie. The knowledge that one has been saying what is not true, that he has been building up a defense for the purpose of concealing the truth is weakening to self-respect. The constant necessity of concealing something provides a serious strain on the nervous system and on the health in general. Many ailments which even physicians find it hard to diagnose are really nothing but the continuing result of the habit of deception. The nervous system can stand a great deal, but prolonged uncertainty and prolonged deception put a heavy load upon it.

RIG NEWS

New York newspapers recently printed the following letter from John D. Rockefeller Jr. to Cardinal Hayes: "I have seen in the newspapers that a campaign is being conducted this week on behalf of the Catholic churches of the archdiocese of New York. Although I have not been selected for a contribution, I feel that this work has a claim on the citizens of New York regardless of religious faith. In trying to meet human needs and make life happier for our fellow men we are all of us, Catholics, Protestants and Jews alike, serving a common cause."

It is a letter like this, showing the spirit of man, free and unshackled, working on high levels, that gives all thoughtful citizens a great hope for civilization.

THE CHANGING FILM

A comparatively few years ago a man in a middle western town hired a woman at an hourly wage to attend his motion picture show. He thought if women could be seen freely going in and coming out of a picture show, this new and almost untapped form of entertainment might develop into a respectable enterprise. This manager had a sound idea and a genius for publicity.

Today the investment in the motion picture industry amounts to a billion and three-quarters of dollars. Annual admission receipts amount to more than $750,000,000. It is said that one hundred million persons attend 20,000 theaters in this country each week.

Days' Prayer In Congress

The Chaplain, Rev. James Short, Montgomery, D. C., offered the following prayer:

The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof, the world and they that dwell therein.

For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place?

He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul into vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

RELATES HOW IT ENDED 35 YEARS OF SUFFERING

New Natural Medicine, Ten Herbs, Gave Amazing Results, Lady States.

More and more men and women of this section report that the famous new herbal compound, Ten Herbs, gave them amazing relief from such health troubles as chronic stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders. A.

MRS. H. C. EDMISTON

great number of local residents have found Ten Herbs to be the proper medicine when those organs are not working as Nature intended, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder so many words of praise for Ten Herbs are heard at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St., this city, where this popular preparation with the ten wonderful natural ingredients is being introduced.

"It was a fortunate day for me when I started using Ten Herbs, for it proved a godsend," said Mrs. H. C. Edmiston, 422 East of Sixth, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa. "I had been unable to do my housework. I would be in bed one day and out of bed the next. This condition existed for 35 years. I suffered from neuralgia, indigestion and nervousness, and was also bothered with constipation. My stomach was so badly disordered that I had heartburn and a terrible bloated feeling. At times gas formed around my heart, causing pains and palpitation, and this caused awful weak spells and shortness of breath. I had terrible bilious attacks, dizzy spells and nervousness, and could not sleep well. The pains across my back felt like the thrust of a knife. I had to take physics about every other day because of constipation. I tried about every kind of medicine I had ever heard of, but got no results.

"After taking four bottles of Ten Herbs, I feel better than I had for 35 years. My digestion was greatly improved, and I became free of that bloated, feeling, pains around my heart, palpitation and shortness of breath. I was relieved of the terrible bilious attacks, dizzy spells and nervousness. The awful pains across my back disappeared, and constipation was corrected. I was no longer troubled with sleeplessness. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to others—it is the most wonderful medicine I have ever used."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, and is sold by all drug and medicine stores throughout this section.

TELLS MORE OF WYOMING
Thompsonville, Wyo., June 12.
Mr. George W. Conway, Editor News—

"Knowledge is power" said wise old Ben Franklin. And I disagree with the old philosopher, who said "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

When eggs are retailing at 30 and 35 per dozen in stores along the Lincoln and Yellowstone highways, while a mile off the beaten track of the tourist, they are selling at 21 cents—even a little knowledge will aid in preserving the plumpness of your pocket-book in this state.

Many hundreds of the readers of "The News" may make a trip thru the Yellowstone National Park this season. And will pass thru or near this place, in leaving by the eastern or southern entrance. Either to eliminate rheumatism or merely to get rid of Wyoming's gritty dust, a few baths might be agreeable. And they would wish to know more of what this place has to offer in the way of facilities, accommodations, and prices.

As I said in a previous letter, under the terms of the deed from Chief Washakie. The State maintains a free bath house, which is kept very neat and clean, is good enough for me at least. About one hundred and sixty persons, on an average, avail themselves of these baths, daily at present.

In addition there are eight private places where you can have an apartment and the blanket sweat, in addition to the regular bath available at the State bath house, at from seven to twenty five dollars per week, at the more pretentious places. In addition there are two plunges, one dance pavilion and another in course of construction. Among these places is a sanitarium in charge of a M. D.

It is well to keep in mind that all of these places use exactly the same water, and some of the older and more moderate priced, have the advantage of being nearest the Springs.

The Griffith House apartments under exclusive lady management where my sister and I are stopping, are moderate in price, and cannot be excelled by any, as far as cleanliness and neatness goes—are furnished with gas, electric lights, dishes, and cooking utensils—you can either cook for yourself, or avail yourself of its excellent dining room; conducted by a Miss Porter, a dictionar as well as a good cook. The same without baths can be had still cheaper, outside of the State reservation.

One of the eight on the reservation advertise mud baths. Another of the more pretentious ones is a Medical Gymnasium—What that is, I do not know.

Harlansburg Is Worked Up Over Highway Survey

Possible Change Of Perry Highway To Point East Has Residents Excited

DELEGATION TO VISIT ENGINEERS

No Objection Is Made To Straightening Highway Near McCracken's Bridge

Harlansburg citizens are excited over a survey for the Perry highway which would change the road from its present location north and south through the village to a point several hundred feet to the east. In a survey which has been made the new route would leave the present highway at a point near where the old U. P. church used to stand, north of the village. It would run east of the present highway, east of Jordan's store and east of the Baptist cemetery, to a point near McCracken's bridge. At a curve west of McCracken's bridge the road would be straightened, running through the present Rock Springs picnic ground, until it struck the foot of the Pumpkintown hill. The present old bridge would be replaced by a new structure on the straightened road.

According to reports, it is proposed to cross the New Castle-Slippery Rock road east of Jordan's store by an overhead bridge. It is understood that this route was surveyed in order that the dangerous crossroads in Harlansburg might be eliminated. Should this route be followed it leaves the new schoolhouse which is being erected off the improved road. It would likewise leave one of the principal streets of Harlansburg off the improved road.

It is conceded that the crossroads in Harlansburg is a dangerous point, but residents believe that the danger could be largely eliminated if the state would install a traffic light. At present it is a frequent occurrence for cars to dash over the point where the New Castle-Slippery Rock crosses the Perry highway at a speed of 40 to 50 miles per hour.

It is said that at least two, and possibly three surveys of routes from the U. P. church to the Pumpkintown hill have been made. One of the surveys following the present road to a point near McCracken's bridge. There does not seem to be any objection to the elimination of the curve at McCracken's bridge and a change of the route through the picnic ground, but the engineers' objections are being raised to the route which would eliminate the present route of the Perry highway through the village. It is contended by residents that it is unnecessary, and that furthermore, the proposed route would entail large expense upon the state and heavy damages upon the county, as land would have to be condemned for the entire new road.

It is understood that nothing definite has been agreed upon, but that the engineers who have been working on the routes will simply submit their plans and put it up to the State Highway Department. A delegation of Harlansburg citizens have arranged with the county commissioners to visit the state engineering department at Franklin tomorrow and lay their objections before that body. The delegation will be accompanied by one or all of the commissioners.

The cotton mills are going south and it is only a matter of time until the olive oil people will move to save their cotton seed.

Suggests Removing Sawed Off Shotguns From Border Patrol

(International News Service) INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., June 17.—Determined to disarm customs border patrolmen of sawed off shotguns of the type with which Henry Virkula was killed by guardsmen, Emmett J. White, Frank M. Keyes, former mayor of International Falls, today intended to file in the United States District Court here an application to forbid officers patrolling the international line from carrying so-called riot guns discharging leaden slugs.

"The killing has two aspects pointing to a situation which is utterly intolerable," said Keyes. "One is that the killing was done with a sawed off shotgun."

Secondly, the killing occurred on an American road many miles south of the border.

The injunction to be sought would restrain customs patrolmen from carrying shotguns on any state highway which is not coincident with the Canadian boundary line.

Pawnshop Robbed In Philadelphia, Thugs Get Loot Of $100,000

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Six bandits executed one of the best planned coups in this city's history today when they bound and gagged four men in A. Brook's pawnshop, 6146 Market street and robbed the safe of more than $100,000 of jewelry. Scores of persons passed in the busy West Philadelphia shopping center unaware of the robbery within.

Driver Of Truck Struck At Crossing

BUTLER, Pa., June 17.—Russell Kissell of Wilkensburg was considerably improved in the Butler hospital today following serious injuries received at Kaylor, 20 miles northeast of Butler, when the truck he was driving was struck at a grade crossing by an engine of the Western Allegheny railroad.

Kissell's truck was in the middle of the track when the westbound passenger train, leaving the Kaylor terminal, struck and dragged the truck about 100 feet. The impact derailed the engine and the truck was completely wrecked.

When Kissell was removed from the wreckage and given first aid by a Chicora physician, it was found that he had received a broken left thigh and arm and bruises and severe cuts over the body.

Drowns Trying To Save His Daughter

PORTSMOUTH, O., June 17.—Seeing his own daughter disappear under the muddy waters of the Ohio river near here Harvey Lacey 41 rushed to her aid and was drowned. Both bodies were recovered in ten minutes but the use of the pulmotors by firemen failed to bring them back to life. Five persons have been drawn at the same spot within the past year.

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 17.—William P. Ferguson, aged 68, veteran newspaper editor and long-time prohibitionist, is critically ill at his home here and little hope is held for his recovery. He has been growing weaker for several months. Ferguson, with newspaper experience in New York, Chicago and Franklin, was probably best known as editor of the National Prohibitionist before coming to Franklin. Several years ago he led an exploring party to Isle Royale, Lake Michigan, uncovering copper workings which are now being further explored.

Instructions Sent To Border Guards Regarding Gunplay

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 17.—Deluged with protests and criticisms over the latest prohibition enforcement killings, the treasury disclosed today that no longer ago than last Thursday, June 13, confidential instructions had been sent to all customs agents along the international borders to "go easy" on gun-play.

These instructions were issued after the shooting of Henry Virkula, Minnesota confectioner, by customs agents and after congress had staged two stormy debates concerning the growing list of fatalities.

In the face of reports from Plattsburgh describing the slaying of Arthur Gordon, 22-year-old suspected rum runner, the customs agents who shot him paid little heed to the new instructions.

Religious Rebels Slain By Hundreds Reported In Mexico

(International News Service) MEXICO CITY, June 17.—More than 100 religious rebels were reported to have been slain in an all-day battle with federal troops at Volcans De Colima, state of Colima, on Friday, according to military dispatches which reached here today.

The federal leader, General Eulogio Ortiz, declared in his report that by his victory he had wiped out the last considerable element of the religious rebels active in the central states of Mexico.

The federal cavalry was assisted by federal airplanes, led by Colonel Roberto Pizarro, which inflicted heavy damage on the "Cristos" entrenched lines, the reports said.

Viaduct Warning!

If you are a pedestrian look carefully before stepping from the curb near the entrance or exit of a viaduct. If you are a driver exercise extreme caution especially as you come out of the viaduct. It is sometimes difficult for a pedestrian to see a car approaching from within. The Story Of The World War
XXXVII—The Race To The Sea

AFTER RETREATING FROM THE MARNE (SEPTEMBER 10, 1914), THE GERMANS MADE A STAND IN TRENCHES ON THE NORTH SIDE OF THE RIVER AISE. THIS RESORT TO TRENCH WARFARE IN THE OPEN FIELD WAS SOMETHING NEW, AND FORESHADOWED A LONG WAR.

THE FRENCH AND BRITISH SUCCEEDED IN FIGHTING THEIR WAY ACROSS THE RIVER AT SEVERAL POINTS, BUT COULD NOT DRIVE THE GERMANS FROM THEIR TRENCHES ON THE SLOPES BEYOND. THE ALLIES THEN PROCEEDED TO "DIG IN" ALONG THE LINE THEY HELD. AS THE ART OF TRENCH WARFARE WAS YET TO BE DEVELOPED, A DEADLOCK ENSUED.

FAILING TO DISLODGE THE ENEMY BY FRONTAL ATTACKS, BOTH GERMANS AND ALLIES SENT TROOPS NORTHWARD, EACH SEEKING TO OUT-FLANK THE OTHER. BETWEEN ARRAS AND THE NORTH SEA STRETCHED AN UNOCCUPIED GAP WHICH BECAME THE GOAL OF THE CONTENTING ARMIES.

BOTH SIDES EXTENDED THEIR TRENCH LINES TO THE NORTH AS THEY WENT ALONG, AND THE LOWLY SHOVEL SHARED HONORS WITH THE RIFLE IN THIS CELEBRATED "RACE TO THE SEA."

TOMORROW: THE GERMANS ATTACK ANTWERP.

CANGEY AND FERRO BOX HERE TONIGHT

Lightweights In Superb Condition

Fritz Otto To Make First Debut Here Against Clemens

THREE OTHER GOOD BOUTS ON CALENDAR

By Ed Fritz
Frankie Ferro and Paris Kid Cangey, local lightweights, are awaiting the bell at Jolly bowl where they are scheduled tonight to battle in a 10-round bout.

Ferro arrived here yesterday. He worked out at the Jolly bowl and appeared in wonderful physical condition. After ten rounds of fast calisthenics and bag punching he was as fresh as a daisy.

Cangey, an hour later worked out at the Jolly bowl and appeared in wonderful physical condition. After ten rounds of fast calisthenics and bag punching he was as fresh as a daisy.

He sunk thudding blows for half a dozen rounds, skipped into the bantam and remarked, "I'm fit!"

It is the second appearance of the boys.

Cangey fought Freddy Fitzgerald and though he is not a marvelous boxer he showed his punch, when even out of condition, he knocked Fritz down once and made him go down for a second time.

Furnishes Action.
Ferro, the same type of teardrop in boxing, fought Tony Herrera and although outpointed him to Tony in the seventh, belted him around the stomach and things looked bad for the Mexican but Ferro lost.

Meanwhile as they are of the same type, punches, rugged and courageous, the lightweights were matched. Jimmie Dime will handle Cangey and Al Lippe will second Ferro.

When all angles it looks like a hum-dinger of a match and fans who like to see knockdowns should get their fill as there are several other prospective good bouts on the card.

Fritz Otto, German army champion of heavyweight boxers, and Leo Clemens of Jamestown, Pa., lately of Cleveland, will clash in the six-round semi-final. They are big, strong, husky and can punch.

Otto will have the support of German-Americans of the city who are anxious to see what he looks like in the ring. Clemens has trained with Rocco and will have the support of the Redcoats. There is one thing sure in this fight and that is heavy, ponderous punching.

George Rohanna, Philadelphia, now of Cleveland, and Bobby Green, Akron, welterweights, will have their second meeting. Each is anxious to win by a knockout.

Good Preliminaries.
Jackie King and a pair of black eyes will oppose Johnny Jennings. They will box at 135 pounds if the commission doesn't believe the dark eyes will interfere with King.

Jackie got them at Beaver Falls Thursday night. If he doesn't want the assignment some other name "light" will be sent in with Jennings who has been training with Rohanna, Eddie Conard and Joey Goodman.

Joe Midway, the husky Polish middleweight, and K. O. Huske, a walloper from Akron, will open the show. They are semi-fatal fighters and are expected to meet here in a four-round bout at 160 pounds.

The bout has been fixed for summer boxing and it will be cool tonight. The top will keep any possible rain from falling into the bowl. The sides have been removed and the fans will be comfortable.

The doors will open at 7:45 p. m. daylight savings time so that the big rush can start early. Cangey has a lot of backing here, likewise Ferro, and a capacity crowd is anticipated.

However Max has one big vice. He is a milk fiend, speckled in capital letters all the way to the D.

Four Contests For Italians This Week

The Italian A. A. of the Lawrence County league is going to be a busy ball club this week. Four stiff games are on schedule, according to Tony Tino, business manager of the team.

On Tuesday night the Italians go to Hillsville for a league game. The battle will start at 6:30 o'clock. The Hillsville team has been going good and they hope to take the measure of the Italians.

Wednesday night the Italians play Brent at Centennial field. The game will commence at 6:30 o'clock. The Italians are out for revenge in this game as the Brent team holds a 6 to 5 score over them in a game at Brent. A good game is anticipated.

Thursday the Bessemer team will be back at Centennial field for revenge for that 5 to 4 defeat of last Saturday. The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

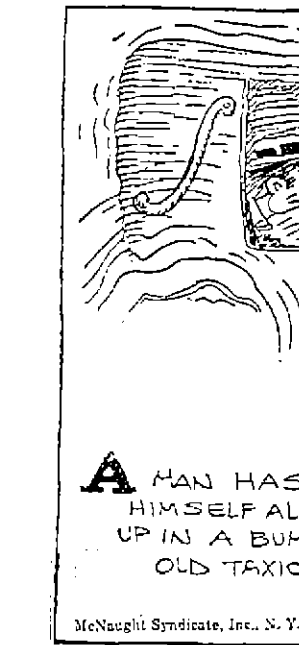

Friday night the Hillsville team is to play a postponed game at Centennial field. This game was called off earlier in the season due to rain. The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

The Italians are open for a game on Saturday, June 22, and would like to book a game with a fast team in the county league. For games write to Business Manager Tony Tino, 419 E. Lutton street, or call 671 between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. any time.

Meyer Declared Altoona Winner In Tragic Race

Officials Give First Place To Lou Meyer; Woodbury Fighting For Life In Hospital

RAY KEECH MEETS INSTANT DEATH

ALTOONA, Pa., June 17.—CHT Woodbury of Chicago today was fighting grimly in Mercy hospital here for his life, with the same tenacity that carried him through a hundred automobile races on tracks throughout the country.

Woodbury was injured Saturday in the international 200-mile auto races here, in which Ray Keesh, the nation's premier speed king, lost his life when six flying cars piled together in a holocaust of flaming wreckage at the 150th mile of the race.

Keesh's battered body today had been returned to his home in Coatesville, Pa.

Decision Reversed.
Officials of the A. A. A. meanwhile reversed a decision of Tipton bowl officials, who awarded first place in the ill-starred race to Keesh. Rules under which the race was run provided the contest could not end until drivers not involved in the smashup were flagged down.

Lou Meyer, previously declared second place winner, would get first prize money under the ruling. Drivers were given 24 hours to file a protest, and it was reported today such a protest would be filed.

Revised standing would be: Meyer, first, $4,500; Cliff Bergere, second, $3,000; Deacon Lutz, third, $1,500; Ernest Triplett, fourth, $1,200; Fred Winnat, fifth, $1,000; Abe Evans, sixth, $850; Speed Gardner, seventh, $750; Bob Robinson, eighth, $650; Jimmy Gleson, ninth, $550; Ray Keesh, tenth, $550; Cliff Woodbury, 11th, $450; Chester Gardner, 12th, $450; Lou Moore, 13th, $450; and Joe Lindner, 14th, $500.

Robinson Starts Tragedy.
Keesh was setting a tremendous pace at the time of the crash, official figures revealed today. After ten miles he was averaging 122.3 miles an hour; at 100 miles had hurled his car over the oval at 125.6 and at 150 miles, the lap before the crash, he had shattered all previous records with a pace of 119.5 miles an hour.

Bob Robinson, former dirt track racer, was hitting a safe pace, waiting for a "break" to put him nearer the leaders. Keesh's car was close in the rear of Robinson, at the terrific speed he had maintained all day. Apparently Keesh was attempting to "lap" Robinson and his slower machine. Just behind Keesh came Woodbury, followed by the gleaming red car of CHT Bergere.

Mrs. Keesh sat in the stands with 30,000 other excited racing fans.

Keesh Meets Death.
All drivers had been avoiding "soft spots" places where the board had been worn paper thin by corrosion and the pounding of the tiny racing cars. Red danger flags marked those spots.

Then Robinson crashed into one of the soft spots. Splinters flew into the air as his machine careened, ground down 200 yards of rail and righted itself. Keesh, hurtling close behind, nearly tried to "wheel through." He, too, hit a soft spot, flew into the broken guard rail and toppled to the foot of the track, a shattered, flaming mass of debris that set fire to the oil soaked track. His mangled body rolled from the car.

Triplett hit the torn rail and passed safely by as Woodbury, striving to overtake Keesh, took high to the guard rail, crashed and rolled down. Bergere wheeled safely through.

League Managers To Meet Tonight

Eddie Connery, secretary of the Lawrence County League, has called a meeting of the league managers for 7 o'clock tonight, at the Sporting Goods Store. It is asked that all managers try and attend this important session.

The protest entered by Bessemer over a recent game with Hillsville will be aired by the commissioner. It is asked that the two umpires who officiated the game in protest, attend this meeting. It is believed the officials were McCann and Nole.

Football Prospects At Grove City Not So Rosy Is Report

Several Of 1928 Champ Team Are Lost To Squad Next Fall

GROVE CITY, Pa., June 17.—Graduation and examinations played havoc with the football prospects at Grove City College next fall. Three members of last fall's championship eleven will be lost through completion of their college football careers.

Two of the players are Faterlini of Charleroi, captain of the team last fall, and Robert Angelo of McKees Rocks. Both of these men were dependable backs and Faterlini was one of the outstanding interference and defensive players in the tri-state district. The tackle is John Weidman of Massillon, whose brilliant performance at that position last fall was the feature of Coach Berry's strong forward wall.

In addition to these three men, four more are apparently lost to the team because of failure to successfully pass their semester examinations. Three of the four are backfield men. Two of them may have a chance to remove their failures by attending the summer session at the college. Whether they will do this is not known. The other two are definitely out of Grove City College football, however. When the football season closed last fall, after a most successful record, prospects were unusually promising for a repetition of the 1928 success, but the situation is not so promising now at Grove City.

Haid Wins Another In Easy Fashion

Harold "Haid" Haid, local hurler with the St. Louis National league team, registered an easy victory Saturday, when he hurled the last inning against Boston, and got credit for a victory.

The score was tied when Haid went in the tenth inning, and his mates pounded out a run, enabling him to get credit for the victory.

PETE MAZEO WINS IN 10 FAST ROUNDS

Drops Pres Johnson For Count Of Eight In Eighth Round

Pete Mazeo, Cleveland, defeated Pres Johnson, Akron, in 10 rounds of fast fighting at the Pottery workers picnic, Cascade park Saturday night. Mazeo dropped Johnson for a count of 8 in the eighth round. They weighed 120 pounds.

In the semi-final of four rounds, K. Loyt, dusky 128 pounder of Sebring, O., lost to Dick Zimmerman, 130, Akron.

Jimmy Myers, 126, Cleveland, won from Frank Palermo 123, Sebring, in four rounds.

It was a good fight but Myers had too many right hand punches for Palermo and had him weak several times.

Jimmy Lee Sebring and Orville Klose, Sebring, bantamweights, fought a hot four round draw.

The bouts were staged by Frank S. Boring, O., a former potter worker.

One thousand spectators witnessed the bout a large part of which were women.

The ring was pitched in the eastern extension of the park.

KING HAS PAIR OF DARK HORSES

Boxing Commission May Order Him Off Card At Bowl Tonight

Jackie King went to Beaver Falls Thursday night, participated in a bout and emerged with a pair of black eyes.

Yesterday his manager asked to have King's bout with Johnny Jennings postponed.

The commission today will settle the question.

King's manager says that a blow is apt to close King's eyes, which would interfere with his battle. Jennings made no such move but prepared for his fight here.

If the commission at 3 p. m. today decides King is not to box Young Benny of Pittsburgh will bring a lightweight bout to box Jennings.

Endeavorers At Conference Here

Delegates Come To Meetings From Three Bordering Counties

PROGRAM CONTINUES IN EVENING SERVICE

Christian endeavorers numbering almost 75 were in attendance at the sectional Christian Endeavor conference held Sunday afternoon and evening in the Central Presbyterian church here.

The attendance of Endeavorers in the evening was augmented considerably by the regular Central Presbyterian congregation.

Members came to the meetings from the three adjacent counties, while others came from further sections of the state. Among those present were officers of the Christian Endeavor organization of Pennsylvania.

The afternoon session opened at 3:30 with Harry Wilson, presiding. William McCombs led the song service which followed the formal opening of the conference. Music by the orchestra and group singing also featured the evening praise service.

Rev. Jesse D. Porter, pastor of the Central Christian church was in charge of the devotional period.

At four o'clock, separate conferences for officers and other phases of Christian Endeavor activity were conducted. Walter Purdee, state vice president, Joseph Todd, secretary of the Western Pennsylvania district, and Warren Hoopes, field secretary were in charge.

Lunch was served to the delegates at 5:45 in the church dining room by the members of the conference church Christian Endeavor organization.

A typical C. E. meeting followed.

Crash At Curve In New Bedford Results In Suit For $300

C. O. Hogue of Dover, O., has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against John Cera and Lewis Cera of Niles, O., in which it is sought to collect $300 for damages to an automobile in an accident at New Bedford.

The accident occurred at the turn of the New Castle-Youngstown highway at the eastern end of the village. Hogue claims that the Cera car was being driven at a speed of 70 miles per hour, and that the car was over the center of the road, when it collided with his car.

No one was injured but both cars were damaged. In connection with the case an attachment has been issued to attach any cash or money that may be found in the hands of W. D. Cooper, trading as the New Bedford Auto Co., in satisfaction of the claim.
